I am a native of Elk Point, South Dakota, living most of my life in the Midwest. I obtained a Bachelor of Science Degree from the University of South Dakota. With that degree I pursued a career in long term care management, which has led me to founding a long term care management company, Caring Professionals.

Caring Professionals is a family business specializing in quality long term care services. Chad is a licensed nursing home administrator and preceptor. Graduating from the University of South Dakota with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Health Administration, Chad brings over 20 years of experience in long term care to Caring Professionals. While serving as administrator, he has been actively involved in Medicare and JCAHO accreditation, regulatory compliance as well as statewide and national organizations and committees. Chad brings experience in health care administration in the states of Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Wisconsin and South Dakota. Throughout his practice, he has been active in management and ownership, preceptorship and professional consulting involving a wide array of areas in long term care including independent and assisted living, skilled nursing, Alzheimer's care and new construction. Chad has received recognition for his contributions in long term care as well as the business communities in which he has served.
